

Throwing Summer Schools

This year I am running 4 Throwing Summer School weeks at the King Charles Centre in Surbiton. The great thing about the ceramics studio is that it is well equipped, easy and free to park and I only have 7 students in each class so you will get lots and lots of one to one time.

This is the first year that I am running courses in August as well as July. Over the past couple of years many students have said it is difficult to attend in July, so I have listened and I hope you'll be able to join me in August too.

July course are available to book online now, but at the moment the August classes can only be booked by phone or in person. August Courses will be online in June.
